fashion & shopping

34 EDITOR'S LETTER This month Brandon remembers one particularly painful gift-giving moment—and vows to never let it happen again.

36 DEAR LUCKY What to do when someone has food stuck in her teeth? Who makes the best panty-line-minimizing underwear? How should you put on blush—really? Resident know-it-all Jean Godfrey-June answers your style questions.

42 LUCKY EDITORS ANSWER Just because winter's here doesn't mean you have to put your bright floral prints into storage. Our fashion editors tell you how to wear them this season.

44 FROM RUNWAY TO WORK DAY Ferragamo's pajama-inspired resort collection just seemed to be daring us to pull together a similar look for the office. The result: a striking outfit that's also comfortable beyond belief.

46 LUCKY GIRL London-based singer Ellie Goulding charts the twists and turns of her ever-changing style—she's tried goth, girly and just about everything in between. One thing remains constant: This girl is crazy about clothes.

54 CITY GUIDE: NEW YORK CITY The shopping scene in New York can feel overwhelming—even if you live here. To make it easier, we scoured the Big Apple for the hottest stores, then categorized them by their standout features, like Best Vintage Trove, Best Flagship, Best Store That Could Also Be a Funhouse and Best Use of Astroturf.

70 $50 AND UNDER: PRETTY IN PUNK These items, as sweet as they are tough, make for a striking, contrast-heavy look. Bonus: Buying them won't eat up all your holiday shopping money!

72 OFFICE SPY: AMAZON.COM Professional with a fun edge, five stylish staffers at the New York office of this Internet juggernaut share their tips on dressing for work.
